

Battle of Stalingrad 1942 - 1943
Event

Tanks, bombers, and close quarters combat, with a disregard for civilian casualties, made this one of the bloodiest battles of WW2. Marked as a turning point in the war, this battle forced Germany to withdraw some of its troops from strategic positions in order to use them as reinforcements for this battle.

INTERRUPT: If your opponent wins the first attack and you play this card, the battle ends until the next turn.

POLAND'S ENIGMA CODEBREAKERS 1882-1935
Mathematician

Early on, the Polish Cipher Bureau foresaw the potential military use of the Enigma machine. Three great mathematicians: Rejewski, Zygiński, and Różycki, joined the Bureau together and built a "tombs" machine used for decoding. When Germany threatened Poland, these men shared their knowledge with British cryptographers who went on to crack the Nazi's more complicated Enigma code and shorten the war. The three men escaped through Romania.
